

Planning checklist

Which climate variables are most important for your development?
Av temp	Extreme temperate	Av rainfall	Extreme rainfall	Sea level rise	Bush fire	Storm events
For coastal developments, have other coastal hazards been identified and how they interact with climate change been considered? Other hazards such as coastal acid sulfate soils, land subsidence, wildfire and other general geotechnical risks.						Yes/ No
Have you considered how climate change may affect the requirements and delivery of underground service to the development?						Yes/ No
Have you considered how the intensification of land use would be affected by climate change?						Yes/ No
Have you taken an integrated approach to coastal planning, including development for environmental, social and economic outcomes?						Yes/ No
Have you applied the precautionary principle to the development?						Yes / No
Have you sought to reduce the risk of climate change to the development?						Yes / No

